Brief Report of the Programme

LaTeX is a high-quality typesetting system; it includes features designed for the production of technical and scientific documentation. LaTeX is the de facto standard for the communication and publication of scientific documents. LaTeX is available as free software.

Objectives: The main objective of this is to bring academicians and researchers for preparing the research document using LaTeX.

Event Overview:

The department of Computer Science Engineering has organized Course on Working with Latex 19.04.2024. The workshop started at 9.30 am in Seminar Hall 1. It was attended by the Principal Dr. S. N. Chandrashekara, organizer Dr. Vasudeva R., other faculty and students of concerned branches.

The session on LaTeX was taken by Prof. Kavitha of CSE department, CBIT. The topics during this session were: 'What is TEX?', 'What is LaTeX?', 'Why LaTeX?' and 'Limitations of LaTeX'. He also explained basics of LaTeX including basic commands, document structure, running and viewing LaTeX.

It is De facto standard for writing academic papers. It is designed for producing beautiful books, thesis, papers, articles etc. It is a typesetting program and not a word-processor. You have to compile your files before you can see the changes. The limitations of LaTeX are if you are trying to produce a document for which there is no pre-defined layout, it requires a fair bit of knowledge to design a new layout. It is inflexible formatting (difficult to change position of figures), requires compilation, also we cannot easily exchange LaTeX files with colleagues who are unfamiliar with it.

He explained Beamer for LaTeX, where Beamer is a LaTeX class for creating presentations that are held using a projector, but it can also be used to create transparency slides. A Beamer presentation is created like any other LaTeX document: It has a preamble and a body, the body contains \sections and \subsections, the different slides (called frames in Beamer) are put in environments, they are structured using itemize and enumerate environments, and so on.

By the end of the course, the students gained enormous knowledge of LaTeX and learnt the advantages of it over MS Word.

Brief Report of the Programme

Soft skills are a combination of personal qualities and interpersonal abilities that enable individuals to work effectively with others, communicate clearly, and collectively solve problems. Soft skills are required for effective problem-solving and decision-making. By developing these soft skills, engineering students can improve their chances of success both in their academic pursuits and in their future careers. Critical thinking is the ability to interpret, evaluate, and analyze facts and information that are available, to form a judgment or decide if something is right or wrong. More than just being curious about the world around you, critical thinkers make connections between logical ideas to see the bigger picture. Building your critical thinking skills means being able to advocate your ideas and opinions, present them in a logical fashion, and make decisions for improvement.

Today, on 21 September 2023, C Byregowda Institute of Technology conducted a student induction programme on “Critical Thinking, Research Mindset and Soft Skills for Students in Engineering”. The resource person A. H. Sagar, an international educationalist and national sports person addressed the audience of programme. It was witnessed by Dr. Basavakumar K. G, Principal of CBIT, conveners of programme Dr. S N Chandrashekara, Dr. Aprameyan S, Mr. Bhanuprakash and students.

The speaker gave knowledge about the problem-based learning strategies, particularly those involving case studies grounded in real-world situations, leading to a marked improvement in critical thinking skills. The talk focused on an innovative teaching framework, offering a practical roadmap for educators to enhance critical thinking skills in engineering education. The speaker also talked about soft skills, such as communication, teamwork, and empathy, are essential for developing a collaborative culture that encourages high order thinking and building relationships.

The talk concludes with details of a shift towards problem-based learning strategies can offer a robust solution to enhance critical thinking skills in engineering students. The expected outcome is that engineering educators in preparing their students for real-world problem-solving challenges. Also it helped to evaluate soft skills among engineering students, to provide insight to educators that can help in designing better activities which integrate both skillsets holistically and efficiently.

By the end of the programme, students were more likely to be able to identify and address systemic problems and work towards sustainable solutions if they are able to work effectively with others and establish strong relationships.

Brief Report of the Programme

An interview is a structured conversation where one participant asks questions, and the other provides answers. In common parlance, the word "interview" refers to a one-on-one conversation between an interviewer and an interviewee. The interviewer asks questions to which the interviewee responds, usually providing information. That information may be used or provided to other audiences immediately or later. This feature is common to many types of interviews – a job interview or interview with a witness to an event may have no other audience present at the time, but the answers will be later provided to others in the employment or investigative process. An interview may also transfer information in both directions.

Seminar on Importance of Interviews in Career Building was conducted in CBIT on 18.08.2023 by CSE department. The programme was inaugurated in the presence of Principal Dr. Basavakumar K. G., organizer Mr. Vasudev R., other staff and students. Followed by this, the speaker Dr. S. N. Chandashekara, HOD of CSE, CBIT emphasized the importance of an interview in the job application process. ## Brief Report of the Programme

A resume is an important part of looking for a job because it gives you a page or two to show off your best and most relevant skills and traits. Employers use resumes to decide who to hire, and they can also help you get your first interview after you apply for a job. Our resume communicates our qualifications and who we are and what makes us different to employers and recruiters. In a tough job market, we need a resume that helps us stand out in a sea of applicants. Ultimately, the purpose of a strategically targeted, polished resume is to get you an interview. Student Employment Services is excited to help you craft an outstanding resume. To accomplish this, you must consider targeting, the resume format, and its content.

Seminar on Resume building techniques was conducted in CBIT on 26.10.2023 by Mathematics department in Seminar Hall 1 at 10.30 am. The programme was inaugurated in the presence of Principal Dr. Aprameyan S., organizer Mr. Bhanuprakash, other faculty and students of all departments. The guest Dr. S. N. Chandrashekara, HOD of CSE, CBIT, illustrated the power of a good resume and interview skills to students and encouraged them to avail this opportunity in grooming themselves for future placements. Followed by this, the speaker emphasized the importance of a well-crafted resume in the job application process, provided students with tips on how to present their skills, experience, and education in a clear and concise manner, and discussed the common mistakes that should be avoided when creating a resume. The speaker said that the importance of a resume is twofold: It helps corporations pick qualified candidates and it helps the job-seekers to showcase their talents and skills for scoring the best employment opportunities. Candidates who want top jobs need good resumes with perfect content and proper structure. Resume building and interview skills play an important role in getting hired in any organization. In present times, a good resume increases the chances of being placed in good industries with a good salary.

Students also received guidance on how to prepare for job interviews, including tips on how to answer common interview questions and how to make a positive first impression. Dr. discussed the importance of researching the company and the role beforehand, as well as the importance of dressing appropriately and maintaining good body language during the interview.

In addition to the lectures, students also developed their own resume and received constructive feedback. They also had the opportunity to participate in mock interviews and receive feedback on their performance. This provided students with hands-on experience and allowed them to practice their interview skills in a safe and supportive environment.

In conclusion, the workshops on resume building and interview skills, provided valuable insights and guidance for students to prepare for job applications. By learning how to create an effective resume and perform well in job interviews, students will be better equipped to make a strong impression and increase their chances of securing employment in their field.

Brief Report of the Programme

Human Immunodeficiency Virus (HIV) remains a significant public health concern globally, especially among young adults, including college students. ## Brief Report of the Programme

Machine learning (ML) is one of the important technologies in the field of robotic. Machine learning (ML) is a branch of artificial intelligence (AI) and computer science that focuses on the using data and algorithms to enable AI to imitate the way that humans learn, gradually improving its accuracy.

Workshop Topic	Machine Learning
Date	29.05.2024 to 01.06.2024
Time	11. 00 am
Resource Person	Arunjit Chowdhury, CEO, Enterprise building training solutions, Mumbai

The Event was organized with the intention to serve proper guidance on Machine learning concepts as well as practical knowledge with Python and R languages.

The resource person joined the session through Google meet and addressed the faculty and students about the importance of Machine Learning.

1st Day: It started with warm welcome and inauguration of the event. Mentors started with the R language and made all the students familiar with R studio. They covered simple topics of Machine learning with R and successfully initiated the good relationship with the students. Technical problem were handled wisely by volunteers alike R setup and R studio setup.

2nd Day: Mentor started with python basics and some coding fundamentals for the new coders and were successful in igniting the spark of interest in coding with python and machine learning. They focused more on theories and were very practical on python basics.

3rd Day: They raised the level of workshop to intermediate by practical hands-on projects like speech to text, chatbots, classification, regression. New students found bit difficult initially as they were not much familiar but with the help of volunteers, they tried at their best to deliver quality. Technical problems like internet connection suffered but mobile hotspots were arranged accordingly.

The Event was a great success and interactive for both the ends. Students showed their active participation in following mentor's guidance and mentors handled to worst to best situations wisely.

Brief Report of the Programme

Hand calculations are by far the best way to start solving a problem, but not always the best way to find the solution you need. Python is a general programming language so it is very good at many tasks, designed for scientific computing. It is easy and fun to learn with great online forums and open communities. There are many libraries for scientific computing, server and desktop management and automation. It works great on Linux, Mac and Windows and easily integrates with other languages (fortran, C, java). The scripts are easily integrated with other applications. It is FREE, open-source and customizable in which every module/library can be modified.

The department of Mathematics organized One day Workshop on Python in association with Tech Trillion on 17.12.2022 at main seminar hall, CBIT. The workshop started at 9.30 am. It was attended by the principal Dr. Basavakumar K. G., organizer Mr. Bhanuprakash, other faculty and students. The resource person Mr. Maqдум Shariff addressed the faculty and students about the importance of Python in Engineering Mathematics.

He covered introductory topics such as Basic data types and variables, arithmetic operations, strings and operation of strings, data structures such as lists, sets, tuples, dictionaries and range. He extended his talk to topics such as installation and use of various modules such as math, matplotlib and numpy were covered. Also, plotting of bar graphs, histograms, pie-charts, scatter plots using matplotlib was covered and trigonometric and logarithmic graphs using numpy was covered. The operations on trigonometric functions and logarithmic functions were covered using math and numpy module. Also, plotting of various mathematical functions using numpy and matplotlib were covered. Students were also taught how to modify the various features of a graph, multiple plots, subplots etc. Finally, students were taught about conditional statements, loops, control flow and pattern printing

In this hands-on course, students gained the experience on Python programming and its features. Students learnt the applications of various modules in Python.

Brief Report of the Programme

A resume is an important part of looking for a job because it gives you a page or two to show off your best and most relevant skills and traits. Employers use resumes to decide who to hire, and they can also help you get your first interview after you apply for a job. Our resume communicates our qualifications and who we are and what makes us different to employers and recruiters. In a tough job market, we need a resume that helps us stand out in a sea of applicants. Ultimately, the purpose of a strategically targeted, polished resume is to get you an interview. Student Employment Services is excited to help you craft an outstanding resume. To accomplish this, you must consider targeting, the resume format, and its content.

Workshop on Effective resume building was conducted by Basic Science department on 15.11.2022 at 10.30 am in Seminar Hall 2. The programme was inaugurated in the presence of Principal Dr. Basavakumar K. G. The audience comprised of organizer Mr. Bhanuprakash, other staff and students. The speaker Mr. V. Krishna Reddy emphasized the importance of a well-crafted resume in the job application process. He provided students with tips on how to present their skills, experience, and education in a clear and concise manner, and discussed the common mistakes that should be avoided when creating a resume. He also added that resume building and interview skills play an important role in getting hired in any organization. In present times, a good resume increases the chances of being placed in good industries with a good salary.

Students also received guidance on how to prepare for job interviews, including tips on how to answer common interview questions and how to make a positive first impression. Mr. V. Krishna Reddy discussed the importance of researching the company and the role beforehand, as well as the importance of dressing appropriately and maintaining good body language during the interview. In addition to the lectures, students also developed their own resume and received constructive feedback. They also had the opportunity to participate in mock interviews and receive feedback on their performance. This provided students with hands-on experience and allowed them to practice their interview skills in a safe and supportive environment.

Brief Report of the Programme

National Pollution Control Day is observed on December 2 every year. It commemorates those who lost their lives in the 1984 Bhopal Gas tragedy on December 2nd and 3rd. A poisonous gas known as MIC, Methyl Isocyanate, has caused many deaths. In terms of industrial pollution disasters, the Bhopal Gas Tragedy ranks among the worst. In terms of industrial pollution disasters, the Bhopal Gas Tragedy ranks among the worst.

In India, around 7 million people die due to air pollution each year, of which 4 million are killed by indoor air pollution. It is estimated that nine out of ten people in the world do not have safe air to breathe. It should be noted that air pollutants are so tiny that they can pass through mucus membranes and other protective barriers to harm the lungs, heart, and brain.

On 02.12.2022 the Department of Civil Engineering has conducted the National Pollution Control Day at 11 am in Seminar Hall 1. It was attended by the Principal Dr. Basavakumar K. G., organizer Dr. Shivaraju R., HOD's of all departments and students. The programme began with the anchoring of student of the department. It was followed by the speech about the environment, its pollution and the control measures as well as details about Bhopal gas tragedy by the speaker Dr. Venkatesh G. K. and HOD of the department Dr. Shivaraju R. After that students also shared their opinions and knowledge about pollution control day.

The program ended with great success and interactive session with staff about the day. The details of student participation are attached below.

Brief Report of the Programme

There is a commonly held misconception that eating disorders are a lifestyle choice. Eating disorders are actually serious and often fatal illnesses that are associated with severe disturbances in people's eating behaviors and related thoughts and emotions.

On 24.12.2022, the Department of ECE has conducted A Talk on Eating Disorders at 11 am in Seminar Hall 1. It was attended by the principal Dr. Basavakumar K. G., organizer Dr. G. K. Venkatesh, other staff and students. The guest speaker Dr. A. Prabhakara Reddy addressed the students and staff and gave knowledge about eating habits and disorders. The Principal, staff and all the students actively participated in the programme.

The speaker said, most eating disorders involve focusing too much on weight, body shape and food. This can lead to dangerous eating behaviors. These behaviors can seriously affect the ability to get the nutrition your body needs. He said eating disorders can harm the heart, digestive system, bones, teeth and mouth. They can lead to other diseases. They're also linked with depression, anxiety, self-harm, and suicidal thoughts and behaviors. With proper treatment, you can return to healthier eating habits and learn healthier ways to think about food and your body. You also may be able to reverse or reduce serious problems caused by the eating disorder. He continued to say that common eating disorders include anorexia nervosa, bulimia nervosa, and binge-eating disorder.

The program ended with great success. The students interacted with doctor and clarified their doubts.

The details of student participation are attached below.

Brief Report of the Programme

LaTeX is a high-quality typesetting system; it includes features designed for the production of technical and scientific documentation. LaTeX is the de facto standard for the communication and publication of scientific documents. LaTeX is available as free software.

Objectives: The main objective of this is to bring academicians and researchers for preparing the research document using LaTeX.

Event Overview:

The department of Computer Science Engineering has organized A Short Term Course on LaTeX 21.04.2022 at main seminar hall, CBIT. The workshop started at 9.30 am in Seminar Hall 1. It was attended by the Principal Dr. Sreerama Reddy G. M., organizer Mr. Vasudev R., faculty and students of concerned branches. Dr. S. N. Chandrashekara, HOD, CSE dept., CBIT, addressed the students about the importance of LaTeX software and advantages for Engineering branches.

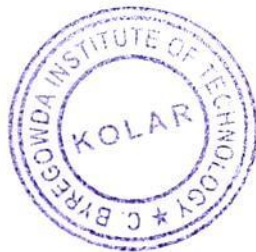

The topics during this session were: 'What is TEX?', 'What is LaTeX?', 'Why LaTeX?' and 'Limitations of LaTeX'. He also explained basics of LaTeX including basic commands, document structure, running and viewing LaTeX.

It is De facto standard for writing academic papers. It is designed for producing beautiful books, thesis, papers, articles etc. It is a typesetting program and not a word-processor. You have to compile your files before you can see the changes. The limitations of LaTeX are if you are trying to produce a document for which there is no pre-defined layout, it requires a fair bit of knowledge to design a new layout. It is inflexible formatting (difficult to change position of figures), requires compilation, also we cannot easily exchange LaTeX files with colleagues who are unfamiliar with it.

He explained Beamer for LaTeX, where Beamer is a LaTeX class for creating presentations that are held using a projector, but it can also be used to create transparency slides. A Beamer presentation is created like any other LaTeX document: It has a preamble and a body, the body contains \sections and \subsections, the different slides (called frames in Beamer) are put in environments, they are structured using itemize and enumerate environments, and so on.

By the end of the course, the students gained enormous knowledge of LaTeX and learnt the advantages of it over MS Word.

The student participation list is attached with this report.

Brief Report of the Programme

An interview is a structured conversation where one participant asks questions, and the other provides answers. In common parlance, the word "interview" refers to a one-on-one conversation between an interviewer and an interviewee. The interviewer asks questions to which the interviewee responds, usually providing information. That information may be used or provided to other audiences immediately or later. This feature is common to many types of interviews – a job interview or interview with a witness to an event may have no other audience present at the time, but the answers will be later provided to others in the employment or investigative process. An interview may also transfer information in both directions.

Seminar on Developing Interview Skills in Engineering Students was conducted in CBIT on 15.12.2021 by ECE department. The programme was inaugurated at 10.30 am in Seminar Hall in the presence of Principal Dr. Sreerama Reddy, organizer Dr. G. K. Venkatesh, other staff and students. The speaker Mr. Vasudev R., from CSE department, CBIT illustrated the power of interview skills and encouraged them to avail this opportunity in grooming themselves for future placements. Followed by this, the speaker emphasized the importance of an interview in the job application process. Also, provided students with tips on how to present their skills, experience, and education during interview and discussed the common mistakes that should be avoided while facing interview. The speaker emphasized the importance of interview skills step by step as follows.

Before the interview:

- Self-preparation
- Research
- Mastering your emotions
- Logistical planning

During the interview:

- Communication
- Introducing yourself
- Presenting your qualifications
- Listening
- Asking questions

After the interview:

- Following up with your interviewer
- Reflecting on your interview and refining your methods.

Students also received guidance on how to prepare for job interviews, including tips on how to answer common interview questions and how to make a positive first impression. He discussed the importance of researching the company and the role beforehand, as well as the importance of dressing appropriately and maintaining good body language during the interview.
